Meeting Called for January 12 to Consider Proposition to Establish General Selling Agency.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL. Birmingham, Ala., Jan. 7.—The subcom-mittee, appointed recently to reorganize the Association of Southern Furnacemen, has issued a call for the representative of the furnace companies in the South to meet in Birmingham on January 12 for the purpose of hearing a proposition they the purpose of hearing a proposition they desire to submit.

It is understood that a plan has been agreed upon by the subcommittee which provides for the establishment of a genera, selling agency or general goditing and check department, to which each company will report all sales on shipment.

A uniform price of iron will be maintained, each corporation giving the benefit of its selling agency to the organization and give other information relative to the exact conditions of the trade. It is generally believed in Brimingham this plan will be adopted for a period of three years.

The subcommittee consists of J. W. McGueen of the Sloss-Sheffield Steel and Iron Company, A. C. Buck of Lacy Buck Company, W. H. Hassinger of the Republic Iron and Steel Company, and Guy Darst of the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company.

"NOTHING TO ARBITRATE." State Board Unable to Effect

Settlement at Bloomington.

Bloomington, Ill. Jan. 7.-The members of the State Board of Arbitration to-day public their report on the street railway strike and left for their respective readquarters. The report is unsatisfac tory, as no concessions could be secured from the company, the answer being that the strikers had formally left the service of the company and there was nothing to or the company and there was nothing to arbitrate.

The board secured a concession from the men by substituting 28 cents an hour, for 19 cents as first demanded, but the company refused to pay more than 17 cents, the old scale. The company also refused to take all of the strikers as a body, but would only agree to take them back under individual contracts and only as needed. The failure of the State Board to effect a settlement is taken to mean that the stringgle will be continued indefinitely. Commencing with to-day the cars are all running on their full schedule. There is still slight disorder, the most serious case being the firing of a bullet through the West Chestnut street car last night. No one was struck.

LOCAL CAPITALIST QUIETLY WEDDED.

Mrs. Grace A. Wilson, Widow of Army Officer, Becomes Wife of Samuel H. Leathe.

CEREMONY AT SOUTHERN

Rufus J. Lackland and Mrs. John Morgan Sims, Daughter of Bride, the Only Witnesses.

Samuel H. Leathe, a capitalist whose transactions in St. Louis real esate in the ast year have amounted to more than $1.-000,000, and Mrs. Grace A. Wilson, widow of the late Major Oscar B. Wilson of the United States Army, were married at the Southern Hotel at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The Reverend Joseph H. Young, paster of the Wagoner Place Methodist Episcopal Church, South, performed the ceremony.

As Mr. and Mrs. Leathe did not desire to have more than a casual mention made of the wedding, there were only two witnesses. Rufus J. Lackland, president of the Boatmen's Bank, Fourth street and Washington avenue, and Mrs. John Morgan Sims, of Collinsville, Ill., Mrs.

Leathe's daughter.

After the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Leathe went to the residence of Mr. Leathe, No. 1413 Locust street, where they will make their home.

Mrs. Leathe is 39 years old. She was the widow of Major Oscar B. Wilson, who lived in St. Louis for some time after his Since his death, six ago. Mrs. Leathe had spent much of her time in St. Louis, always staying at the Planters Hotel.

Since her first husband's death she had projected and conducted several business nterprises. Until recently her home was in Indianapolis, although for the last four months she has been traveling in the East and in California.

Mr. Leathe, who is 78 years old, has lived in St. Louis most of his life. After the Civil War he was engaged in the picture frame business under the firm name of Pettus & Leathe, but retired from the concern more than twenty years go. For many years he has been in the real estate business.

Some years ago he bought a tract of property in South St. Louis at a nominal sum. He knew that in time the land would be valuable for rallway terminals. He did not err in this, for several years later railroads offered to him a large consideration, but he refused because he beleved the property to be more valuable. Later the railroads bought the property at his price. He became interested in lead mines and increased his holdings from time to time. Within the last year Mr. Leathe's realty transactions are understood to have mounted to more than $1,900,000. He pur chased the Washington University property on Washington avenue, upon which the university has a lease. Besides, he has bought within the last year large blocks of land on Washington avenue from Eighteenth street to Jefferson ave

Kiely at their home in Windermere way on Wednesday evening to their young son. Robert, whose visit for the holidays will terminate Sunday evening, when he will return to Notre Dame University to resume his studies. The dinner, in consequence, was a joly little leavetaking affair of young Mr. Kiely to a few intimates among his fellow-students at the St. Louis University, which he formerly attended. The table decorations were red and white, with festoons of Southern smilax from the crystal chandelier over either end of the table, the greenery being terminated by big bows of scarlet satin 11bbon. From loops of the ribbon and weaths of the smilax at the base of the chandelier the navyand-white pennant of Washington University and the buff and pale blue of Notre Dame were arranged. Heavy crystal candelabras at either end of the table wore smart bows of the vivid ribbon and held red candles dressed in red sift poppy shades. Red carnations and maidenhair fern formed the centerplece.

Mrs. George Muneon assisted Mrs. Kiely in catertaining. The guests were Messrs. Clement Lonergan, James Lonergan, Gervals Gaiennie, Harry Williams, Ino Ruff, Valle Bain, Charles Ryan, Porter Munson, Frank Kiely, John Bowlin and William McCalpin.

SYMPTOMS OF DYSPEPSIA

Important Facts Have Been Recently Discovered Which Are of the Greatest Value in the Treatment of Diseases of the Stomach.

of Diseases of the Stomach.

The usual symptoms of dyspepsia or indigestion are pain in the chest and discomfort in the stomach and abdomen, an accumulation of gases, frequent beiching, the rising of sour or bitter tasting ilquids, nauses in the stomach, heartburn, headache, palpitation, and, in severe cases, vomiting.

Nearly all dyspeptics of either sex stoop as they walk, and most of them droop forward as they sit. They have a foriorn friendless appearance, become "cranky" and disagreeable and forget their friends. They are morose, fault-finding and irritable, have but little inclination for work, and their mental faculties are sluggish or drowsy.

It is quite easy to overcome these disturbances, as there is a remedy that any one can take without consultation and with a guarantee of cure. EUPEPSIA TABLETS will cure all stomach troubles arising from imperfect digestion. It matters not how many other remedies you have tried or how obstinate the case may be, or how long standing; if EUPEPSIA TABLETS was not a remedy on which absolute dependence can be placed we could not afford to offer it on a strict guarantee to cure or refund the money. A trial only is needed to demonstrate the value of these tablets. They can be had at any first-class drug store or by mail for 50c a box. Our guarantee to cure holds good whether they are bought from the druggist or from us direct.

We append unsolicited letters from people who have used EUPEPSIA TABLETS:

I have been troubled with catarrh of the stom-act for about 15 years, and I must say that EUPEPSA TABLETS have done me more good than any other medicine I have ever taken. HENRY STOFFEL. Colwich, Kas.

NO NIGHT WORK FOR WOMEN. Postmaster Wyman Considering

Changes in Local Service.

Among the changes and improvements in the postal service and the bettering of the conditions of the employes w Postmaster Frank Wyman has under consideration is one which will avoid the necessity of any women working at necessity of any women working at night. At the present time many work at night in some of the departments. Mr. Wyman believes he can adjust the work so this will not be necessary.

Another question he is considering in the reducing and centralizing of the number of substations. This matter will have to be carefully considered and the needs of the different districts canvassed. It is thought this object can be accomplished without impairing the service.

Collectors and carriers in the suburban districts have complained that they are compelled to work long hours. Mr. Wyman will investigate this complaint.
